Colder Products Company Introduces New Fittings Product Line

FitQuik™ Connectors offer hundreds of new fluid management solutions for customers worldwide

St. Paul, MN – October 21, 2009 – Colder Products Company introduced more than 350 new fittings and luers at MD&M Minneapolis today. The new line of FitQuik™ Connectors adds hundreds of cost-effective connection options to its current product offering of quick disconnect couplings and fittings.

“Our customers have been asking for a single source for high-quality fittings, luers and couplings; we’ve added these products to meet this demand,” said Dennis Downs, business development manager. “This vastly expanded offering gives medical device manufacturers and OEMs thousands of connector options from one supplier, making it easier to order multiple part numbers.”

FitQuik Connectors are manufactured under Colder’s rigorous quality standards and are available in both black and white nylon and animal-free, natural polypropylene. These fittings feature precise hose barbs and thread forms to ensure a secure fit. New fitting styles include luers, tube-to-tube, thread-to-tube, blood pressure fittings and are offered with NPT and 10-32 threads. Additional configurations and materials will be added as part of an extensive product line expansion.
